Claire Pascoe reported that Tranz Metro had charged another adult fare to take her bicycle on a suburban train. She also appealed for buses to be fitted with bicycle racks, and for the Petone-Wellington cycleway to be completed.

Chris Horne recommended that the committee ask the Minister of Transport to order Transit New Zealand to cancel the planned Transmission Gully motorway, and transfer the funding to two single-track railway tunnels between Pukerua Bay and Paekakariki.

Paul Bruce congratulated the committee on the progress it had made, and asked whether Greater Wellington would re-think the purchase of new railcars (sic) and buses, and bring forward railway double-tracking and electrification. He also advocated the free carriage of cycles on trains and buses.

Brent Efford noted the retirement of Councillor McDavitt as committee chairman, and noted his appreciation. He also noted the absence of the Ngauranga-airport report from the order paper, and lauded the charging policy on roads.
